The new cart has arrived and is kept busy cleaning up the streets and hauling away rubbish from the stores.

Mayor Ike T. Jobe calls the board together every few nights now and is settling down to work nicely. He presides with dignity and keeps both eyes open for Johnson City interests.

The board have decided to take four more electric lights. One will be placed on corner of Roan street and Watauga Avenue, one on Main street near Geo. P. Crouch's residence, one on Market street near J. J. Ford's, one on Maple street near the Foundry and Machine Works.

The Baptist Church at Roan Mountain will be dedicated on the 27th inst. by Rev. J. R. Harrison, of Virginia. An excursion train will leave Johnson City at 7:30 a. m. returning at 4:45. Free dinner to excursionists. Proceeds to be applied to paying for the church. See small bill.

The Morristown Gazette should have been content to write up Bristol and not write down Johnson City. If it had not mentioned the 3 C's we would not have known what town it referred to as the "envious and ambitious little rival." Johnson City has no rival. Like Longfellow's turnip Johnson City grows apace and is dependent only upon its own resources for life. There may be larger towns in East Tennessee but there are none with so many moving qualities as Johnson City has and none where fly brushes are so little needed. All this you will be convinced of, Uncle John, when you visit Johnson City.

Capt J. H. McClister, of Morristown, Grand Visitor of the 1st Dist. of Tennessee, organized the Thomas E. Matson Chapter of Royal Arch Masons at the Masonic Temple in this city on the 6th inst. E. Dean, Capt. of the Host; J. P. Hopple, Principal Sojourner; Thos. E. Matson, Royal Arch Capt.; John C. Smith, Master 3rd Vail; E. S. Wolfe, Master 2nd Vail; J. A. Wilson, Master 1st Vail; H. W. Lumsden, Sentinel.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Bowman, wife of A. B. Bowman, Esq., President of the Watauga Banking Company and Clerk and Master of Washington County, died last Friday morning at 2 o'clock at her home one mile east of this city.

Mrs. Bowman was in the thirty-sixth year of her age but had been a consumptive for a year or more. Last fall Mr. Bowman took her to south California and spent the winter traveling in the hope that she would be benefited but the result was not satisfactory. She was improved, however, and was able to be up and around the house until the morning before she died. Thursday morning she arose as usual without assistance but was taken sick about ten o'clock and vomited violently. Growing better in the afternoon she was not thought to be in any immediate danger of death but as the night wore on she became gradually weaker and just as the first faint glimmerings of day appeared in the East her soul passed from this world to its reward in heaven. She died calmly and peacefully as only a christian woman can and left a loving husband, sister and friends to mourn their loss but not without the hope that there will be a meeting where parting is unknown.

The funeral was conducted at the residence Sunday morning by Rev. J. C. Cowan and the remains were interred in the family burying ground. A large number of Johnson City friends attended the funeral.
